Who are you as an ACC?

St Leonard - We are a group of parishes that have learned to listen to each other, and even though we might have different priorities and needs and cultures, we have learned to help each other and see how we can contribute what we have (resources, gifts and talents) to our ACC.

What is one thing you are proud of as you build bridges with one another?

OLV- we at our ACC demonstrate bridge building through the outreach we do for our parish “family” members, and for those less fortunate out in the communities, such as: sending contributions to the Salvation Army, local food shelf, soup, kitchen, clothing drives, fundraisers, the fundraising appeals from the diocese for special causes, the missions, human resource assistance, using a “ free will donation” approach so that those with large families and less income can still participate in special events and meals, scholarships for children attending Catholic school, allocating meeting space for special groups, such as the Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters, supporting Stevens ministry, to name a few.
